

Julee Conway, Retired – City of Reno

Julee has significant educational background and experience in the parks and recreation field for the past 29 yrs and has a demonstrated history of working in the government administration industry. Skilled in Nonprofit Organizations, Budgeting, Analytical Skills, Government, and Entrepreneurship. She possesses a varied and applicable educational background with a Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) focused in Finance from California State University-Fresno and a B.S. in Park Administration from California State Polytechnic University, Pomona, California.

She most recently held the position as the former Director for the Parks, Recreation and Community Services Department with the City of Reno retiring in 2015. Prior to that she spent 20 years in Oregon where she held similar Director positions for the cities of Gresham and Corvallis, Oregon. Her history within the state of Nevada dates back to 1980 when she worked for Washoe County in park planning. She and her husband live in Reno and Julee devotes her time to many professional and leisure pursuits. She is employed as a Senior Associate with Citygate Associates, LLC, a public sector consultancy firm dedicated to offering management consulting to the full array of local government functions, including the parks and recreation field.

When not applying her skills to support improving the operations of park and recreation agencies through her work with Citygate Associates, she spends her volunteer time supporting the efforts and initiatives of the Truckee Meadows Parks Foundation, by volunteering for Nevada State Parks, NRPS, and other regional park, recreation, open space and trail enhancement related initiatives. She enjoys national and international travel with her husband and family, many outdoor recreation hobbies, photography, painting and crafting. She has even enjoyed skydiving and scuba diving!
